Obituary.

P.M. SAT. - 7.4.1917

MR. JOSIAH SECOMBE.

At the advanced age of 34 years, Mr. Josiah Secombe, of Ennis, on Thursday, March 15th, closed a long and useful life, the greater portion of which had been spent in this district. As a lad of 17 years, he, with his two elder brothers, with their wives and families, emigrated from Cornwall (England), and landed in this district in 1850, and immediately entered upon farming pursuits at Rollands Plains. The two elder brothers subsequently removed to Dondingalong, in the Macleay district, where they established comfortable homes, reared large families, and made for themselves an honored name, which is to-day worthily upheld by their descendants. Josiah having married Catherine, second daughter of the late Mr. John McDonough, of Rawdon Villa, resided for several years on the property of the late Mr. John Pountney, known as "Scott's Plains," but on the enactment of what is popularly known as the "Free Selection Land Act," Mr. Secombe took up a valuable portion of land at Ennis, all of which locality was at that time standing scrub, so that it required the expenditure of a vast amount of labour, amidst many incidental difficulties, in order to establish a home and make a living, but the exercise of persevering industry brought its reward. To Mr. and Mrs. Secombe were born three children, viz., one daughter (Mrs. W. Fryer, of Sydney), and two sons—Patrick Henry, of Ennis, and Josiah, of Sydney. Mr. and Mrs. Secombe's home was a centre of hospitality in early days, when facilities for accommodation were few and far between. Any genuine or deserving appeal for help never failed of assistance at their hands. Mr. Secombe also took a deep and practical interest in any project to advance the welfare of the district. He was a prominent member and staunch adherent of the Methodist Church, occupying several important positions of trust in that church, the duties of which he discharged to the best of his ability and conscientiously, and was held in high esteem by all who came in contact with him for his honest integrity. Mrs. Secombe predeceased her husband upwards of twenty years ago, and Mr. Secombe subsequently married Miss Martha Lynn, of the Macleay River, and to them was born one son, John Lynn, who, with his mother and the children of the first marriage, now survive the husband and father. Mr. Secombe possessed the old-time English physical constitution, hence until quite recently never required medical attention, but the weight of advancing years ultimately induced retirement, and the last few months brought prostration such as required constant watching and nursing, which were lovingly rendered by his devout wife and sons, until the end came quietly and peacefully on the afternoon of the date mentioned. The funeral took place on the 16th, when the body was laid to rest in the Methodist portion of the Beechwood cemetery in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends from all parts of the district, including several nephews from the Macleay. Mr. R. Davidson, in the unavoidable absence of the Rev. A. E. Putland, conducted the service at the graveside, and in the course of a concise address bore personal testimony to the useful and honorable life of the departed during his long sojourn in the Hastings district. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. H. T. Wilkins.

OBITUARY

P.M. TUE. 20 July 1965
MRS. ADA ROSANNA
SECOMB

The death occurred on Saturday at Wauchope Memorial Hospital of Mrs. Ada Rosanna Secomb, aged 91 years, of Beechwood.

Mrs. Secombe was born to the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Halliday, farming people in Port Macquarie, and married William Percy Secomb at Rollands Plains.

Mr. Secomb died in 1963.

Mrs. Secomb is survived by two daughters, one of whom, Ena Florence (Mrs. Thompson) lives at Beechwood.

After a service at 2.30 p.m., on Sunday, July 18, the funeral left Wauchope Methodist Church for Wauchope cemetery.

Bad Death.

P. 2 C 6

Mr. ROYDUS SECOMBE, aged 27, commission agent, was accidentally poisoned at Coff's Harbor on Wednesday week. Not feeling well he went into Mr. Blackall's chemist shop to procure some medicine, and while there he took a dose of it. It is alleged that the chemist's wife gave him what she thought was water to mix with it, but was really carbolic acid. Mr. Secombe drank the mixture and died within an hour.

A magisterial inquiry was held on last Friday by Mr. Fitzhardinge, Police Magistrate, into the circumstances surrounding Mr. Secombe's death. Mrs. Blackall deposed that deceased called for some medicine, and asked for a dose. She poured into the medicine what she thought was water, but had since learned was carbolic acid. The deceased drank the medicine, and afterwards rinsed his mouth with the acid. He at once complained, and a doctor was sent for, but Mr. Secombe was dead on his arrival.

Dr. Kane stated that on his arrival he gave deceased antidotes, but without avail. Deceased died from carbolic poisoning, a teaspoonful of which would be fatal.

A verdict of accidental death was returned.

The late Mr. "Roy" Secombe was well known on the Macleay and Hastings Rivers. He resided with his parents on the Upper Macleay for a couple of years, and has since visited the districts in connection with the sale of paspalum seed. The young man served with distinction in South Africa, where he was wounded, and walked lame in consequence.

OBITUARY P4C4

MR. PATRICK H. SECOMBE

Tuesday, 8th December, records the passing of one of the district's aged and useful identities in the person of Mr. P. H. Secombe.

Born over 90 years ago at Ennis, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Secombe, "Pat" (as he was familiarly known,) lived in the Ennis locality for the first 40 years of his long life.

Seeking better health, he shifted to higher ground known as the Redbank Estate; here he continued dairy farming with unabated interest, enjoying much improved health.

From this locality, he exerted a keen interest in public affairs, including Local Government, being at one time a member of the Hastings Shire Council. The annual agricultural and horticultural exhibition at Wauchope claimed his generous assistance, and he took a keen interest in P. & C. affairs, the Junior Farmers Movement, whilst in a wider sphere he was a foundation identity in connection with the immigration projects operating after the two world wars—his home was ever open to newcomers from other lands.

When the time of retirement came his way the late Mr. Secombe continued his public interests from his Wauchope home where he took up residence 27 years ago.

Right from early manhood, he acknowledged the Sovereignty of God, and took an active and keen interest in the Church to which he belonged, and in later life took more interest in the activities of the British and Foreign Bible Society which he supported from his chair at home.

Other interests spread over Mr. Secombe's life included Wauchope's original butter factory, then situated on the property known as Cainstin's Park (overlooking Rocks Ferry). He was for a time manager of this establishment and when the activities of such came to a halt, he became a director of the new concern built in Port Macquarie which for a time handled the Hastings butter production.

He also journeyed per horse buggy to the monthly meetings of the Hastings District Hospital Committee in Port Macquarie.

When, in the course of time the butter production management at Port changed hands, Mr. Secombe transferred his interest to Wingham where a bacon factory had been built to protect the local pig raisers from fluctuating prices. He was a sitting director of the Company up to the time of his passing.

He was a keen lover of horses, and up to within three years of his demise nothing pleased him more than to be astride a good animal with a herd of cattle in front.

Three months ago, declining strength compelled this active life to stay within doors, where inactivity seemed to hasten the end which took place during the early hours of Tuesday, 8th December.

His partner in life predeceased him by 18 years, but to mourn their loss he leaves a family of six, viz., Ella (Mrs G. Garrett, Wauchope), Gordon (Kempsey), Miss Clarice Hastings Secombe (Wauchope), Milton Bruce (Ruthven Hill, Wauchope), Sidney Wilfred ("Jack," of Redbank Wauchope), Adele (Mrs. Dean of Townsville, Queensland). A half-brother, Mr. John L. Secombe, lives in Sydney. There are also 18 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Chas. Wheeler performed the last sad rites at the graveside, after a short service in Wauchope Methodist Church, the large funeral and bounteous floral tributes bearing witness to the esteem in which the deceased was held by a wide circle of Hastings district residents.—"Shire" Gazette.

ANNUAL CUP MEETING.

Nominations Close Next Wednesday.

The annual Cup meeting of the Inverell Jockey Club is to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 31st., 1936 and January 1st., 2nd., 1937. Six events are to be held on the first two days and five on the concluding one. On the first day the principal races are the King's Arms Handicap 6 furs., of £50, and the President's Handicap, 9 furlongs, of £100. The main attraction on New Year's Day is the Inverell Cup, run over a distance of seven furlongs, and worth £250 in prize money, in addition to a valuable trophy. The sprint race on January 1st. is the Inverell Station Handicap, 5 furs., of £35. The remainder of the races on that day consist of a Maiden handicap, 5 furs.; Novice handicap, 6 furs.; Welter Mile and a Novice Handicap of 5 furlongs.

Despite the dry weather, the racing track is in good order, and last night's rains will be of great benefit to the lawns, etc. Visiting horses are already commencing to arrive and the racing is anticipated with great interest.

Nominations for all races for the next, December 12th, close on Wednesday, the 10th.

Prize money for the Inverell Cup is £100; acceptance £3; King's Arms Handicap £50; acceptance £25; Welter Mile £100; acceptance £50.

Weights are to be made on Wednesday, December 19th. As the cup meeting is the last of the club's racing, members should obtain full benefits. The admission is £1/14 (including lady's ticket is given free).

Daughter of an early pioneering family

Mrs. Clara Campbell, who died on June 4 in Inverell, was a daughter of early pioneers of the upper Macleay River.

Born 91 years ago, she was born on May 26, 1845, the fourth of a family of 11, three of whom survive her.

Her parents were the late William and Sophia Secomb, who were among the original settlers in the Toorooka area.

She was the widow of George William Campbell, a member of another pioneer family of the Hastings and Macleay Rivers. They were married in May, 1899 and settled at "Fairfield", Toorooka, where they reared 10 children.

In 1920, because of Mr. Campbell's health, they moved to Inverell and their property, Dunmal-lard, on the Fernhill road.

They remained there until 1935 when Mr. Campbell's failing health made a move to Inverell necessary.

After her husband's death in 1936, Mrs. Campbell built her home in George Street and lived there until about nine months ago when failing health made hospital-care essential. Surviving members of her family are Elsie (Mrs. W. Argue, Port Macquarie), Leslie (Chatswood), Allen (Inverell), Kathleen (Mrs. Johnston, Kempsey and formerly of Hickeys Creek), Herbert (Gosford), Neville (Inverell), Jean Mrs. E. Maher, Eastwood, Mervyn (Inverell), Sidney (Tenterfield), Jessie (Mrs. E. Ford, Northwood).

A brother, Mr. Alwyn Secomb, and two sisters, Miss Amy Secomb and Mrs. Ellen Somerville, all of Kempsey, survive her.

After a service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Inverell, on June 6, the funeral left for the Inverell cemetery.

of courage, simplicity, sincerity and sympathy, which were virtues in a private sphere, should have led to so melancholy and bitter a conclusion. His poorer subjects would especially remember him for ever and wish him private peace and happiness.

END OF MONARCHY.

Mr. C. P. Maxton brought forth a demonstration of anger and loud shouts of "No, no," when he declared that the lesson of the past few days was that the Monarchy had outlived its usefulness. It was in the very nature of hereditary monarchy that circumstances of this nature should arise, creating grave difficulties. Empire House should now consider this a political problem.

OPPOSE MORGANATIC LAW

Major Atlee again addressed the House. He said he could not have supported any proposal allowing the King to make a morganatic marriage; not only in law, but it was a sound healthy element of the monarchical constitution that the lady whom the King marries must be Queen. Any attempt to pass such a bill through the House of Commons and the Dominion Parliament would involve the King, and im-

Ruthven Hill was home to Secombe family for years

The parents of Clarice and Bruce married at Sandy Point on 22nd October, 1885, the ceremony conducted by Rev. John Davis. The witnesses to the marriage of Patrick H Secombe and Cordelia Sinton (nee Andrews) were Walter Fryer and Nancy Andrews.

The children of Pat and Delie Secombe were Ella, Gordon, Clarice, Bruce, S. W. (Jack) and Adele (Dell). Another daughter deceased.

For many years the family's housekeeper was Miss Alice Knight. Her mother was midwife to the Secombe children with the exception of Bruce who was delivered by Mrs Bill Bailey.

Bruce and Clarice said: "After their marriage the family occupied a home at Sandy Point. Some time later a new home was built on the hill - it was called 'Elliston'."

"Elliston was built for us by Mr. Andrew (Andy) Johnston."

Clarice: "Elliston was built to honour Uncle Eddy Ellis. He was Auntie Em's husband."

Bruce: "He put Papa (P. H. Secombe) into the position of being able to purchase the land at Redbank."

Mr. E. Ellis married Emily Andrews. She was a sister of Jane who married Duncan Graham of Korea Island and of Elizabeth (Bessie) Andrews who resides in Rocks Ferry Road. Emily's husband managed the Bank of New South Wales in Port Macquarie. Mr. Isaac Andrews, the father of Mrs P. H. Secombe, occupied Ruthven Hill at that time. R. Y.

Bruce: "A good many years later Vivienne (the wife of Jack Secombe) changed the name to Meadowbank."

Clarice and Bruce, speaking about Ennis: "The Good Templars Hall was behind Nancy Robinson's place. Other farms were those of Fallick, Denning, Roach, Lord Gowrie, Eggert and W. J. Andrews was at Sandy Point then."

Bruce: "I was there when Doug Andrews stood up - after crawling."

Doug's father, W. J. Andrews was the only son of Isaac Andrews of Ruthven Hill. R. Y.

Bruce: "When the Secombe girls were of school age they used to walk down the river bank to where they were rowed across the river to Daniher's who lived on the Wauchope side. Mr. J. N. Parker pulled the school boat for twopence (2d) a head from where the Rocks ferry is now to the Government wharf."

Clarice and Bruce: "Freeman's shop was there and next door was Brophy's place. Mr. Walter Fryer bought Freemans. His daughter Velvie, until she was 7 or 8 years old, had Mrs Melville as her governess. When she was older Velvie suffered a broken jaw and used to always wear a big veil over her face."

Bruce: "I can still remember buying bull's eyes from Freeman's shop."

Clarice: "Our grandfather (Josiah Secombe) lived at Rollands Plains before he came to live at Ennis. He built a large barn just about opposite his house."

Bruce and Clarice: "The Ennis Wharf was just opposite the Muscio farm. After a big flood some old coins were found in the cane patch on Muscio's property."

The Wesleyan Church used to be where the Jacaranda trees are now. It stood there for many years and then Mr. Ern Trotter bought it and moved it to Beechwood. Mrs Alex Trotter (nee Way) lives there now."

Bruce: "I remember the timber boats collecting timber from Corecarr Creek wharf - it was a tidal creek."

Clarice and Bruce: "The Anglican Church at Ennis was built near Mr. Sam Steel's barn."

The old Dawes home still stands near the Steel farm. Their house was built about the time Fred Dawes got married. It had a floor of beech wood-tongue and groove - and the boards came from the old Fryer home.

Sandy Point is the land which was left from the corner at Ennis. Our father purchased Ruthven Hill from our Uncle, Arthur Bartrim (he married Nancy Andrews). There was a beautiful garden and orchard - oranges, gausas, persimmons, peaches, pears, lots of fruit and near the creek there were poplars along the fence.

The Ennis ferry was near the old Dawes house. Miss Nellie Dawes was born in that house. The Dawes family later moved over to Frank Warters' farm and then eventually they moved in retirement to Port Macquarie."

Bruce: "I went to Sabbath School at the Ennis Wesleyan Church."

In 1976 there were framed certificates on the wall of Bruce's home at Ruthven Hill stating: In recognition and grateful appreciation of his completion of 25 years of willing and devoted service rendered to the church as a local preacher. The certificate was signed at Port Macquarie in 1957 and the second certificate was presented for 50 years of service to the church and signed in 1971. R. Y.

Bruce: "The windows and linings and the boiler from the Ennis bacon factory were moved to the Ennis wharf by a bullock team. The posts and roof of an out-building were from the old Port Macquarie gaol, the planks were of tallwood. They were tongue and grooved 14 feet long, over an inch thick and 8 inches wide. This was at Ruthven House."

I can still recall the sailing boats on the river and how the vessels would be poled up the river.

Clarice: "Papa bought the Fallick farm and the house was moved to Wauchope for us to live in when we left Elliston."

Bruce: "The house was on the hill near the Denning's place. Phil Fallick's father was a member of Parliament - Phil married Miss Dolly Suters. The house was moved to the back of where the Wauchope Hospital is. It was removed by Mr. Tom Bartlett, his wife was a sister of Mrs Phil Fallick."

The Fallick farm was 396 acres and was on both sides of the Redbank Road. The house was built where the trees are now at Roger Secombe's place.

Bruce: "Ruthven Hill home, built in 1870, was roofed with oak shingles until about 1925-26 when they were replaced by a corrugated iron roof. The original convict well was 10 foot square, built on a rock base and the water came in from a spring fresh and clear."

The home was a show place then. The walls were of sawn timber and papered over. The hall door had small leadlight panes - it came originally from the first E. S. and A Bank in Wauchope. An out-building was trimmed with the scalloped boards from the Bain Park pavilion - built by John Baxter. These material were purchased for 10 pounds.

The mahogany weatherboards were brought over to Ruthven Hill about 70 years ago on Mr. W. H. Pead's horse drawn dray. The slabs used in the barn came from the old Port Macquarie gaol and the bricks were hand made from the kiln at Ruthven Hill. The home was built by John Lowry Ruthven and was occupied by the Secombe family from 1919.

Clarice: "Papa purchased it from Uncle Arthur (Bartrim), 70 acres of land for 1400 pounds, originally there were four large rooms with 10 foot ceilings and a hall down the middle"

Mr. Bruce Secombe spent the last years of his life in the home at Ruthven Hill.

Miss Clarice Secombe, after the death of her parents, lived in a cottage situated at the end of the house she had lived in with her parents and with her sister Dell (the house removed from the Fallick farm).

Several old trees, including lemon and persimmon still grow in the spacious grounds of the cottage built by Vincent Unicomb of Port Macquarie for Clarice.

In more recent years Miss Clarice Secombe became a resident of Bundaleer - a neighbouring building over the fence from her cottage home. She celebrated her 99th birthday at Bundaleer.

Her 100th birthday tomorrow, January 17, 1992 will be celebrated at Bundaleer.

Note: AS a child CLarice attended the Wauchope Public School where she was to become a friend of Mahala Suters (now Klumpp) who became 100 years old on December 17, 1991. Mona Suters (now Jeffery) was a school friend of Dell Secombe and J. R. Andrews (now Everingham).

Robinson's place. Other farms were those of Fallick, Denning, Roach, Lord Gowrie, Eggert and W. J. Andrews was at Sandy Point then."

Bruce: "I was there when Doug Andrews stood up - after crawling."

Doug's father, W. J. Andrews was the only son of Isaac Andrews of Ruthven Hill, R. Y.

Bruce: "When the Secombe girls were of school age they used to walk down the river

Sandy Point is the land which was lies left from the corner at Ennis. Our father purchased Ruthven Hill from our Uncle, Arthur Bartrim (he married Nancy Andrews). There was a beautiful garden and orchard - oranges, gavas, persimmons, peaches, pears, lots of fruit and near the creek there were poplars along the fence.

The Ennis ferry was near the old Dawes house. Miss Nellie Dawes was born in that place.

Bruce: "Ruthven Hill home, built in 1870, was roofed with oak shingles until about 1925-26 when they were replaced by a corrugated iron roof. The original convict well was 10 foot square, built on a rock base and the water came in from a spring fresh and clear.

The home was a show place then. The walls were of sawn timber and papered over. The hall door had small leadlight one celebrated her 77th birthday at Bundaleer.

Her 100th birthday tomorrow, January 17, 1992 will be celebrated at Bundaleer.

FUNERAL SERVICE LARGELY ATTENDED

Taree Methodist Church could not hold all who wished to attend the funeral service on Friday afternoon of former church organist, Mrs Evelyn Kerr. re Trotter

Many unable to gain admission to the crowded church followed the service from vantage points outside.

The large and representative attendance and the huge mass of floral tributes bore silent testimony to the affection and esteem in which the deceased was held.

Mrs Kerr, aged 55, member of a pioneer Manning family, died in the M.R.D. Hospital on Wednesday after a long illness.

In conducting the funeral service the Rev. Wm. Hardie was assisted by an old friend of the family, the Rev. A. E. Putland, who read the lesson and spoke at the graveside.

Born Evelyn Kathleen Trotter, she was the eldest daughter of Mrs M. H. Trotter, of Albert St., Taree, and the late Mr Thomas Trotter.

She is survived by her widower, Mr Albert Kerr, sons Allan (Tamworth) and Ronald (Sydney) and sisters Lillian (at home) and Dora (Mrs Hannigan), Dorrigo.

Addressing the packed congregation the Rev. Hardie said:

"We are gathered in this church to pay our loving tribute to the memory of Evelyn Kerr and to express by our presence deep and affectionate sympathy to those who have suffered bereavement.

"This large congregation representative of all sections of the community is indicative of the esteem and high regard in which she was held by the townspeople of Taree and District.

"An active member of the Taree Methodist Church she is revered by many who were privileged to share with her in the joy and gladness of Christian Fellowship.

"We are the poorer for her passing and mourn the loss of a loving and beloved wife, a mother, a daughter, a sister and friend.

"Evelyn Kerr brought to her marriage true Christian grace and proved over the years her support.

"In the church she served with zeal and the wideness and tolerance with which she worked is evidenced in the presence and representation of every Protestant cause in the community, at this service, as well as our friends from the Purfleet Station.

"She served the Taree Methodist Church as Sunday School teacher, Endeavour leader, Missionary collector, organist, Choir member, as well as being associated with all the Women's Groups of which she was a loyal member.

"Called in the last two years to bear much suffering she showed through those years of struggle Christian fortitude and courage.

"During her hospitalisation at the M.R.D. the staff found for her a place in their affection and I must express deep appreciation of the loving care and the solicitude shown by the nursing, house staff and doctors during her long period of illness.

"I would also like to pay tribute to the love and devotion of the family over many months and especially to Bert Kerr, whose first thought was always for his wife's comfort and well being.

"Seldom have I seen such loving care and self abnegation and as one who stood by on many occasions it was my privilege to realise something of his gracious care and tender solicitude.

"Evelyn Kerr fought a long battle against a strong physical enemy and because there were so many things to live for, she never gave in, but hoped against hope

861 Bobs In Martin Fund

The "Bob In" fund for Test cricketer, Johnny Martin, now stands at 861 shillings.

In addition to the list published in Monday's "Times," the collectors, Messrs. Jock Witchard (Wingham sports store proprietor) and Cec. Barnes (Pulteney St., Taree, hairdresser), announce the following contributions: that she would be enabled to rise from her sickness to do battle with life.

£1/1/-: Norm Cameron (Marlee), Don Solomon (Taree), Norm Kaleel (Taree); £1: Mrs Smede (Taree); 10/-: W. Bedford (Taree).

"This is a sad occasion but it is not only a time for sorrow. Christianity is never so confident, it is never so exultant as in its proclamation of life in God.

"Alive to all true values Evelyn Kerr is now alive to God beyond the vale of suffering."

"We are the poorer for her passing and mourn the loss of a loving and beloved wife, a mother, a daughter, a sister and friend.

"Evelyn Kerr brought to her marriage true Christian grace and proved over the years her loyalty and allegiance to her vows. In the love, honor and comfort which she gladly rendered she proved herself a wonderful helpmate.

"As a mother she brought to this high vocation a sense of dedication and gave to her sons both high ideals and practical insights.

"She gave to her parents obedience, love and loyalty and was a wonderful companion to her sisters, whose ministrations helped and strengthened her in her long and difficult illness.

"As a member of one of Taree's oldest families she was justifiably proud of that heritage and possessed in a great degree the spirit of the pioneer forbears who first settled this part of the Manning.

"With wise insight she sensed the historical importance of the Glen-thorne Methodist Church where the first Methodist services were held over a century ago and when it looked as if the church would be closed she gave herself, although ill in body, to seeing that its doors remained open.

"The community found in Evelyn Kerr a woman of wide and varied interests and there were few charitable and philanthropic causes which did not receive her ardent by the nursing, house staff and doctors during her long period of illness.

BILES—SECOMB.

At 2.30 p.m. Wednesday afternoon on June 30th, Dondingalong Methodist Church, prettily decorated for the event, was crowded with friends on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Ethel Islet Secomb, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Secomb, of "Salem," Dondingalong, to Mr. Arthur Loftus Biles, of Carlton, Sydney, the Rev. M. L. Bembrick, officiating. The bride, given away by her father, was gowned in white crepe de chene and georgette, trimmed with seed pearls and hand embroidery; and her veil was arranged with orange blossoms. Her bouquet of white carnations, pale pink roses and ferns was the gift of her sister Mrs. Adin Dornan. Miss Jessie Whiteman, of Burwood, as bridesmaid, was flanked in champagne crepe de chene, with touches of tomato and hat to tone. Her gift from the bridegroom was a gold circle brooch, set with moonstone and pearls; and she carried a bouquet of red and pink carnations and ferns, also the gift of Mrs. A. Dornan. Mr. Frank Secomb, brother of the bride, was best man. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a travelling case, and her gift to him was a pair of gold sleeve links. Miss Bennett of Taree was organist, and during the signing of the register, Miss Grace Smith sang "Love's Coronation." Later Mr. and Mrs. Secomb were at home to some sixty guests at "Salem" where the happy couple received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding breakfast was served on the verandah, Rev. M. L. Bembrick presiding. After the loyal toast the chairman in happy vein, proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom, the latter responding. "The Bridesmaid" proposed by the bridegroom, was responded to by Mr. Frank Secomb. Mr. E. P. Noonan capably handled the toast of "The Bride's Parents," mentioning the high esteem in which they were held by all who came in contact with them, Mr. Thos. Secomb feelingly replying. Mr. William Harvey gave "The Relatives of the Bridegroom," Mr. Biles responding; Mr. C. B. Bailey in experienced manner toasted "The Ladies," Mr. H. Bennett, of Taree, and Mr. Ben Fith replying thereto. Congratulatory telegrams were read from Mrs. Walker, Crescent Head; Miss Peterson, Melbourne; Mrs. Farnsworth, Haberfield; Rev. and Mrs. Putland, Young; and Nurse Fletcher, South Australia. Miss Biles, sister of the bridegroom, was present. By the evening train Mr. and Mrs. Biles left on their honeymoon, which is being spent at Jenolan Caves; and their home will be at Carlton. The bride's travelling frock was putty crepe de chene, trimmed oriental embroidery, and hat of sage blue and putty. Numerous handsome and useful presents were received, also several cheques.

MRS. MATILDA KERR

Following a paralytic seizure on Thursday last, Mrs. Mathilda Kerr, of Taree, passed away in the Mayo Private Hospital at 1 a.m. on Tuesday. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Secomb, of Dondingalong, Macleay River, where she was born 81 years ago, and where she resided until 1888, when she was married to Mr. A. H. Kerr. Following marriage they went on to a farm on the Orara River, and remained there for about 20 years. They then moved to Coolangatta to live in retirement, and her husband passed away at that centre in 1923. Mrs. Kerr remained at Coolangatta for a few years, then spent four years at Inverell with her brother, and for the last 12 years she has resided at Taree with her only child, Mr. Bert Kerr. The late Mrs. Kerr was loved by all who knew her. Her happy, sympathetic nature attracted those who came into contact with her, and her friendships lasted over long periods. She was a faithful member of the Methodist Church and throughout life was actuated by an earnest desire to do all in her power to help others. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Edward Secomb, of Tamworth. Three brothers and one sister predeceased her, viz., Jas. Secomb (Sherwood), William Henry Secomb (Coff's Harbor), Rev. Thomas Secomb (Western Australia) and Mrs. Frank Foster (Clarence River). The funeral took place on Wednesday from the Taree Methodist Church to the Dawson cemetery. Rev. W. T. Cross officiated at the church and graveside.

A century for Clarice

Among the people at Bundaleer on Friday to help Miss Clarice Secombe celebrate her 100th birthday was Mrs Linda Judd of Kempsey who is a niece to Clarice. Linda obliged when it was time to cut the special birthday cake by assisting her Aunt dispense with the official duty. The morning tea celebrations were enjoyed by all who called in to Bundaleer to be part of Clarice's special day.

Clarice reaches 100 Birthday celebration at Bundaleer tomorrow

With the celebration of the 100th birthday of Miss Clarice Secombe tomorrow (January 17) and all the changes she has seen in her lifetime, we look back to the first Secombe who came to the Hastings.

We obtained this information from the Port Macquarie News of April 17, 1917.

"Josiah Secombe came to the Hastings at the age of 17 years.

He, with his two brothers, their wives and families emigrated from Cornwall, England and landed in this district in 1850, and immediately entered upon farming pursuits at Rollands Plains.

The two elder brothers subsequently removed to Dondingalong, in the Macleay valley, where they established comfortable homes, reared large families, and made for themselves an honoured name, which is today worthily upheld by their descendants.

Josiah, having married Catherine McDonough, second daughter of Mr. John McDonough of Rawdon Villa, resided for several years on the property of the late Mr. John Pointney, and known as Scott's Plains, but on the enactment of what is popularly known as the Free Selection Land Act, Mr. Secombe took up a valuable portion of land at Ennis, all of which locality was at that time standing scrub, so that it required the expenditure of a vast amount of labour, amidst many incidental difficulties in order to establish a home and make a living, but the exercise of persevering industry brought its reward.

Mr and Mrs Secombe's home was a centre of hospitality in early days when facilities for accommodation were few and far between. Any genuine or deserving appeal for help never failed of assistance at their hands.

Mr. Secombe also took a deep and practical interest in any project to advance the welfare of the district. He was a prominent member and staunch supporter of the Methodist Church, occupying several important positions of trust in that church, the duties of which he discharged to the best of his ability and conscientiously.

He was held in high esteem by all who came in contact with him for his honest integrity.

To Mr and Mrs Secombe were born three children, viz., one daughter (Mrs W. Fryer of Sydney) and two sons, Patrick Henry of Ennis and Josiah (Sydney)."

Josiah passed away in 1917 and his wife Catherine in 1897.

Both are buried in Beechwood cemetery.

From the notes supplied by Mr. Owen Secombe, a nephew of Miss Clarice, we read that Clarice Hastings Secombe was born at Ennis on January 17, 1892 to Patrick Henry Secombe and Cordelia Sinden Andrews, the second in a family of seven, with Mrs Knight as midwife.

In her time she has seen the first mail service established between Beechwood and Wauchope by pack horse across Cameron Falls; the beginnings of the township of Wauchope taking over from the once thriving village of Ennis.

A new wharf was built at Ennis and there was talk of removing the punt at Ennis to the Rock's Ferry site.

It was fitting that Clarice should have been a special guest at the opening of the new bridge in 1985 as she most certainly would have been at The Rocks when the punt was finally brought round in 1910.

In 1898 Clarice's grandfather Isaac Andrews sold Ruthven Hill to Mr. A. J. Bartrim for 700 pounds, it being the centre for all sports and recreation.

Concerts, picnics and debating meetings were held.

Most people travelled the river by boat or on foot to take part.

Patrick and Cordelia Secombe, like their forebears were respected citizens of the district, taking part in all public ventures and doing their best to improve the growing township of Wauchope.

In the early '20's they moved to Wauchope, re-siting the big Fallick house from Redbank to a position near the school. (It is now part of the Hospital complex).

Mr. Secombe was particularly interested in gardens and orchards.

He was an instigator in trees being planted in the streets, and the Gardening Club.

Miss Clarice has won trophies for her home garden.

People laughed when he offered a prize way back in 1920 for a town garden but the project took off and was sponsored by the Show Committee while Mr. Secombe was a member. His house and garden was always a picture and many young boys and girls learned to love the land through Mr. Secombe's guidance as a Rural Youth organiser.

Miss Clarice went to the old school in Cameron Street, coming across the river by boat.

As a young woman she took over the care of the home, her sister Adelle being a popular music teacher, and like the Josiah Secombes, she provided accommodation for many a young schoolteacher, some of whom became lifelong friends.

It is anticipated many relatives and friends will be offering their congratulations to this lovely lady on her special day.

Party day for Clarice Secombe

Surrounded by family and friends, Miss Clarice Hastings Secombe celebrated her 70th birthday at Blandford on Friday last. A life long resident of Wanchape, Clarice responded to the messages of congratulations from her many admirers in our community at a special birthday party. The Blandford lounge area was brightly decorated for the evening in festivity and Clarice was thrilled to have her special group of nephews and nieces and a goodly number of close friends and neighbours in attendance. The party was well organized by all concerned and musical entertainment, provided by Max Jeffery and Joe Black, kept proceedings lively and relaxed. Pictured adding their personal congratulations to Clarice's happy day are Michelle Suel of Melbourn, Michelle's great aunt and close friend of Clarice, Ruby Collins (nee Suel) of Hastings Street, and Willie Everingham (nee Andrews) of Rocks Ferry Road who has been a friend of Clarice since their school days together.
